X. L.'s Valentine Party.

Friday evening, Feb. 13, the X. L. club gave a Valentine party at the house at Mountville Center. About 40 invitations had been sent out, but on account of the severe weather only 25 responded.

The prizes were each one was shown how his or her future mate would look. Matching for partners was next and then came the Valentine making.

At this point the queen and king for the evening were selected. This was decided by another game in which Miss Agnes Atwood and Master Robert French won out.

After being crowned by the hostess, they were asked to lead the way to the dining room, where a delicious lunch was served by the club. A large fortune cake was at each end of the table, one for the ladies and one for the gentlemen. The queen of the evening served these to the guests and much fun followed, as each learned his or her fortune. At this point the front doorbell rang furiously and Master George Davis appeared as postman with a special delivery from Cupid's court. He had a Valentine for every one who had been invited. More games followed and there were several pinno balls and small heart candies and valentines. The guests, when departing amid a genuine snow storm, seemed to be of the opinion that the X. L.'s knew how to X. L. in entertaining.
